

Media ownership should be diverse and broad. Concentration of media ownership has led to appalling circumstances with which we now live. For news of any social, political, or economic significance, I feel that I have to consult international media, where I can get an honest picture and range of view points.